We can't express how glad we are that Mr. Matthews is back home. He has been a helper in the community. We love him. His accident which came near being fatal cast a gloom over the entire community.

A party met at Mr. Miller's last Monday evening to pay its respects to Mr. and Mrs. Croft Goodwin in the form of a chachivari. The visitors had a delightful time, some of the teachers with them, yet next day being examination they did not omit any rule for these pupils who accompanied them. Yes, that teacher who accompanied those boys and girls to Haven Sunday eve did not forget to double our latin lesson. My! What will they be by the time they have taught twenty years longer?

Mr. and Mrs. Maness, Mr. and Mrs. Lockmiller, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Tate, on different days during the holidays entertained friends. We thank you. We hope next Christmas you'll have one hundred times what you now have and feed one hundred times more people.
